WSU blasts Buffs in Kansas outing

WICHITA, Kan.—A gallant West Texas State University comeback try was halted at the Wichita State 14-yard line in the closing minutes of play and the Shockers took a 30-14 Missouri Valley Conference football victory here Saturday afternoon before 9000 fans.

The Buffaloes had come from behind in the final three minutes of last year's Wichita State clash in Canyon with two touchdowns to take a 21-16 decision.

In Saturday's game, the Buffaloes had further to come but the trying was just as strong. Quarrterback Don Nava tossed a 78-yard scoring pass to split end Tracy Dickson with 5:39 left to play. Bruce Wyre's conversion made it the final margin, 30-14.

On the ensuing kick-off, an onside belt, Steve Gobin recovered for the Buffaloes at the Wichita State 49.

Three pass completions, two to tight end Merced Solis and one to Dickson, got the ball to the Shocker 15. Billy Pritchett lost three on a sweep but gained four up the middle to the 14. On fourth and one, Clois Burgess was halted inches short of a first down to end the scoring bid for the Buffaloes.

The Shockers were able to run out the clock without further Buffalo damage.

The big difference in the game was West Texas State's inability to push across the Shocker goal line when the occasion arose. Besides the push which was halted at the 14 late in the game, Wichita State stopped the Buffaloes at the Shocker 1-yard line in the first quarter, the 15 in the second quarter and the 37 in the fourth quarter.

West Texas pushed 28 yards in six plays to score the game's opening touchdown following a fumble recovery by defensive end Juan Garza.

Rick Schleider went the final four yards on a reverse after a fake sweep to tailback Pritchett. Bruce Wyre converted with 11:56 remaining in the second quarter to make it 7-0 with the Buffs ahead.

The Buffaloes had earlier driven to the Shocker one yard line only to be stopped on downs.

Wichita got on the scoreboard midway through the second quarter on a 92-yard pass from Tom Owen to Phil Benning. The kick failed and West Texas still held the 7-6 lead.

The Shockers pushed 68 and 80 yards for their last touchdown drives.

The Buffaloes are now 1-3 in conference play and Wichita State is 2-1. For the season the Buffs are 2-5 and WSU is 3-4.

West Texas State faces New Mexico State at Las Cruces, N.M., Saturday before a return home to face three final foes, Tampa, Southern Mississippi and Louisville.

New civic center funding plans include federal, local money

Federal revenue sharing money is expected to pay only about half the costs of construction of a new civic center for Canyon, but City Manager George Loudder said Friday he does not expect the city to issue bonds to cover the remainder of the costs.

City commissioners gave tentative approval last week to schematic drawings of the proposed civic center and activities center buildings and are expected to approve the plans formally at their first meeting in November.

Loudder explained Friday current commission thinking on financing the project, which the architectural firm of Heningson, Durham and Richardson has said could cost between $1 million and $1.7 million.

He said the city will receive about $500,000 from the federal government through its five-year federal revenue-sharing program, which began last year. Commissioners have already allocated the federal money to a special fund for the construction.

"We anticipate that of the initial construction, revenue sharing will cover about 50 per cent of the cost," Loudder said.

Loudder said surplus funds in the general fund and the water fund will be used and are being saved with an eye toward contributing about 35 to 40 per cent of the cost of construction.

The remaining 10 to 15 per cent needed to finance the building will be financed over a period of five to seven years with the costs to be paid from the water and sewer fund each year for the five years.

Loudder said the plan is a short-term indebtedness program.

"We're not anticipating any bond program at this time," he said, noting that the financial plan described was for construction of a civic center building and development of the immediate area.

"It's not fair to say we won't consider a bond program, though," Loudder said, stressing that if commissioners decide to build the civic center building, the activities center building and landscape the surrounding land the city might have to consider a long-term financing program.

"We might want to consider bonds if they're thinking of the entire project," he said.

Architects with HE&R, an Omaha, Neb., firm, presented to commissioners Monday a tentative price schedule indicating the cost of the new city office building would be $956,000. Cost of a separate activities center to replace the existing community center would be about $406,000. Project costs including architect's fees would be $340,000 for a total project cost of about $1.7 million.

Cost for construction of the civic center building alone with landscaping in the immediate area would be just over $1.2 million.

Loudder said there would be no need to consider a bond program just for construction of the office building and he noted that there are "alternate avenues of financing for the entire project, extended debt programs which might or might not include bonds."

Loudder said he does not expect commissioners to decide on whether to pursue the entire project or just the office building until all architect's plans are completed and possibly not until bids

Some legal legwork is already done by AISD on annexation

Amarillo School Supt. Robert Ashworth indicated last week the Amarillo School board has already done some legal legwork on the question of how the land that board wants annexed from the Canyon School District can be obtained.

Canyon School Supt. Jerry Jacobs said late in the week that he assumes the Amarillo district will pursue legal aid in examining the question, which was posed by the Canyon board Monday night. But, he said he has not been told the Amarillo board will seek an answer to the question.

Ashworth told The News the Amarillo board is to meet Monday night and discussion of the proposed annexation of 10½ sections of land from the Canyon district is not on the agenda.

"It might not even be discussed," Ashworth said.

He said he has "no idea" what the board will do in response to the Canyon board proposal.

He indicated the legal investigation conducted so far by the Amarillo board has not revealed positive answers to the question.

Canyon school board members Monday night told Carl Hare, president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, that it would be premature to name a citizens committee to study the annexation proposal until all legal questions concerning annexation are answered.

And, they said they feel the responsibility for conducting legal research into the questions falls to the Amarillo board, since it is pursuing the annexation.

Hare had proposed a citizens committee be formed to study the annexation issue and make recommendations to both school boards.

The Amarillo board has proposed the annexation and the Canyon board has stated that any such voluntary annexation would require a reimbursement to Canyon for anticipated loss of tax revenues on the 10½ sections.

Only cursory examination of Texas statutes and the Texas Education Code reveal two sections pertinent to the annexation issue.

Article 2742f of Vernon's Civil Statutes provides the method for detaching territory from one school district and attaching to another.

The article says the county board of school trustees, an entity now headed by Randall County farmer R.B. Gist Jr., "shall have the authority, when duly petitioned. . .to detach from and annex to any school district territory contiguous to the common boundary line of the two districts; provided the board of trustees of the district to which the annexation is to be made approves, by majority vote, the proposed transfer of territory. . ."

The article provides that the

Amarillo sports editor voted off WTSU plane

David Densmore, sports editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, said he was told at week's end the West Texas State University football team has voted not to allow him to travel with the team on road trips for the remainder of the season.

Densmore, author of a controversial column in Thursday's morning paper, attributed the team action to the Thursday column which criticized the Buffaloes, who now stand at 2-5 for the season.

A veteran sportswriter and editor of the Amarillo paper for two years, Densmore said Buffalo Coach Gene Mayfield called the Globe Managing Editor Paul Timmons late Thursday to inform him of the team action.

"Last night, Mayfield called and said the players had voted they didn't want me to make the trip" to Wichita, Kan., Densmore said. "He did not call me or attempt to call me."

Densmore said he believes the vote was taken Thursday afternoon, following the appearance of his column in the morning paper.

It was reported Thursday that Mayfield "hit the ceiling" after reading Densmore's column, which began: "What started out as 'The Year of the Buffalo' is rapidly becoming 'The Year of the Buffalo Hide.'"

"And with Buffalo skins already hanging on walls from Utah to Illinois, West Texas State football fans are presently casting for the role of scapegoat. . ."

A spokesman for the Buffaloes was reached by the News following Saturday afternoon's Buffalo game against Wichita State. He said he did not know "for a fact" that the team had taken the vote, and said he believed Densmore would be allowed to make the only other road trip on the 1973 Buff schedule next week to New Mexico.

Mayfield could not be reached for comment.

Densmore has covered Buffalo football since 1968 for the Amarillo paper. He also covers Buffalo basketball during the winter and WTSU track and field activities in the spring.

Densmore contended in his column that pre-season hoopla over the Buffs may have raised fan expectation to a level exceeding all practical levels and this may have spurred the reaction to the Buffs' losing season, the second the team has suffered under Mayfield.

Sigh of relief comes from locals on joint jail plans

Randall County officials breathed a sigh of cautious relief this week when they learned Potter County and the City of Amarillo may join together to build a cooperative jail facility.

For nearly a year, Potter County officials, plagued by what they term an inadequate jail, have periodically sought Randall County participation in funding of a joint jail to be placed on the county line.

Randall County officials have spurned such proposals, contending that the county jail is more than adequate for the county's needs and that construction of a joint jail would be uneconomical for this county's residents.

As recently as two weeks ago, Potter officials made overtures on the joint jail.

However, press reports from Amarillo indicate Potter County and the City of Amarillo may be close to an agreement on construction of a joint facility.

Randall County Judge Woody Pond in the face of Amarillo press reports that Potter County commissioners and Amarillo city commissioners advocated joining with Randall County or, as one official reportedly said, moving the county line five miles into Randall County, holds firm in his conviction that a combined jail for the two counties would not be economically feasible or desirable.

"I really can't see why we should have the extra expense at this time because the jail has sufficient room and is operated properly to take care of our needs," he said. "It's not that I don't want to cooperate, but I can see their needs, but really their needs are different from ours."

Pond said he feels the county commissioners should not harness county voters with additional expenses unless the expenses can be absolutely justified.

"I believe we need to cooperate all we can and I'd be glad to if there was a need for us to do that

Canyon's retail money draining into Amarillo

The average Canyon resident makes about three trips to Amarillo each week and in doing so drains away money which could benefit local retail merchants, according to Dr. Eldon C. Lewis, dean of the West Texas State University school of business.

Lewis said Canyon's proximity to Amarillo is the primary reason Canyon's retail sales are below the average for Texas towns of equal size.

When the average Canyon esident travels to Amarillo, Lewis said, he spends money and will probably stop in Amarillo to make a purchase.

While the biggest industry in Canyon is indisputedly WTSU, Lewis said with 20 per cent of the university faculty and 30 per cent of the students living in Amarillo again money which originates in Canyon is removed from the City.

"Amarillo is draining the economy," he said flatly.

Citing recent studies conducted by the school of business, Lewis said towns which are 80 or 90 miles from a major city find most of their retail trade staying within the town. But, major complaints in small towns from residents focus on retail merchants' selection and prices.

"You can't say that's the only reason for Canyon people to leave Canyon," he said.

Canyon's economic base is not as dependent on agriculture as it once was and this, in part, explains, Lewis said, the apparent lack of business activity which might normally be expected to be generated by record wheat and milo harvests.

"I think expenditures which farmers make in Canyon are not going to vary much regardless of what kind of crop they make," he said. "Many things flow into Amarillo. Incomes have been high but savings have not grown. They've spent their money on large durable items."

Lewis said many Canyon residents may go to Amarillo because they simply assume the selection is not good in Canyon.

Consumers, Lewis said, are basically bargain hunters and may travel to Amarillo to shop for bargains without realizing that they are making probably no real savings when they travel

Petition alleges child is beaten

A delinquent child petition has been filed in 181st District Court here on a 14-year-old Randall County youth the state alleges was involved in beating and scalding the 22-month-old child he was baby sitting.

The petition was filed last week by juvenile authorities on the youth, who lives between Canyon and Amarillo.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said local sheriff's deputies received a report last weekend from the Amarillo Police Department concerning a child brought to Northwest Texas Hospital in that city suffering bruises and severe burns.

"After talking with the doctor they determined that apparently the injuries would have had to be deliberately inflicted, because they determined the child apparently was in fine physical condition at the time the parents left to go to work and left him in the custody of the male 14-year-old baby-sitter," Dowlen said.

Dowlen said the child was taken to the hospital after the babysitter called neighbors and said the child had been scalded in the bath tub while he answered a ringing telephone.

"The investigation justified the filing of a delinquent child petition on the juvenile," Dowlen said.

Eagles still in district with win over Demons

When the fourth quarter opened Friday night it appeared the Canyon Eagles had fallen to another district foe.

But, when the final gun sounded, the Eagles were victorious for the first time in six outings with a 15-12 win over the Dumas Demons and were still in contention for the district crown.

The high-spirited Eagles went into the Friday night outing owning a 1-5-1 record and with a feeling of dismay.

But, with the opening kick-off it became apparent the Dmons and Eagles were virtually an even match.

While the breaks have been all bad for the Eagles during their more recent outings, the breaks went their way Friday night as they played a tight game of ball control, a game unmarred by crippling interceptions or fumbles or excessive penalties.

It was the Eagle defense and the toe of Scott Wilson which gave the Eagles their win.

The defensive stance was revealed in the opening minutes of the game, but the Dumas offenders took the ball over after an Eagle punt and moved the ball to paydirt in their second possession.

The Demons took possession on their own 12-yard line and after the punt found going tough. The Eagles regained possession but a fumble by Quarterback Ed Lair on the 39 gave the ball back to the Demons with 3:54 reminging in the initial quarter.

An end sweep by Wayne Laughry for 22 yards put the Demons within striking distance and two plays later Dan McDowell swept up the center with 1:41 left in the quarter for the initial Demon score.

The Eagles blocked the extra point and the block proved invaluable as the Demons held a 6-0 edge as the quarter ended.

The Eagles threatened late in the first half as they worked the ball to near the goal line, but on a fourth down play, Lair was caught trying to pass and the ball went over with 3:37 remaining in the half.

The half ended with the Eagles behind just 6-0.

Dumas received the opening kick-off of the second half and moved the ball from their own 15 to the Eagle goal line in eight plays, highlighted by a 16-yard run by Matt Vollert.

McDowell went in for the score from the five-yard line with 4:53 showing on the third quarter clock.

The Demons, attempting to regain a lost point, tried a two-point conversion which failed

Our World

UN Is A Fraud

By ANN BROWN

Is there an American who needs further proof that the United Nations is a fraud and a travesty than the Israeli-Arab war?

Purportedly, the U.N. was organized to keep peace in the world. Since the U.N. was founded, communists have imprisoned over 800 million people behind the iron curtain.

Without one preventive action from the U.N., the communists have seized control of Albania, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, North Korea, Manchuria, East Germany, China, Tibet, Northern Laos, Cuba, and North Vietnam.

The U.N. wants peace, they say. In fact they paint grim pictures of the horrors of war. But their concept of peace seems to be lack of resistance to communist aggression. They ignore the fact that people die just as horribly at the hands of a dictator as from atomic weapons.

The mass murder and enslavement of the peoples behind the iron and bamboo curtains has drawn no protest from the U.N. Why?

The U.N. has been under communist control from its very beginning. Of the some 6,000 people employed in the U.N. Secretariat, over two thirds are either communists or communist sympathizers.

(Remember the storm of applause when our friend, Free China, was kicked out and Communist China taken in? That is just one of the insults the U.S. has received from the U.N.)

The four Secretary Generals of the U.N. have been outspoken socialists who openly favor world communism.

Alger Hiss and Molotov made an agreement that the head of the U.N. military staff would always be a communist. The first 8 men appointed to this all-powerful post have all been communists; 7 from Russia and 1 from Yugoslavia. They control the military, atomic energy, and disarmament affairs of the U.N.

A constant stream of communist propaganda spews from the U.N. The following are quotes from official U.N. pamphlets: "It was the Communist party which showed the peoples of Russia the way to free themselves from social and national oppression . . . The Soviet Union is a brotherhood of free and equal peoples."

Another official U.N. booklet, prepared for young children, has a cartoon depicting the founding fathers of the U.S. as three grotesque caricatures snarling at each other over a conference table, with a rat for an audience.

Still another publication, "Toward World Understanding," emphasizes the theme that the government must replace the family. It stresses the necessity of "freeing the child more and more from the family."

In addition to communist propaganda flooding the U.S. from the U.N., several narcotics officials insist there is ample evidence that much of the drugs inundating our country are smuggled in by U.N. personnel.

An official communist pamphlet titled "The United Nations" lists 4 reasons communists must support the U.N.:

"1. The veto will protect the USSR from the rest of the world.

"2. The U.N. will frustrate an effective foreign policy of the major capitalistic countries.

"3. The U.N. will be an extremely helpful instrument in breaking up the colonial territories of non-communist countries.

"4. The U.N. will eventually bring about the amalgamation of all nations into a single Soviet System."

While an American President and an American movie star hug the No. 1 communist leader, only God knows how many American boys rot in communist prisons.

Arab and Israeli soldiers are killing each other by the thousands. Instead of trying to stop that war as the U.N. is supposed to do, Russia and the U.S., the two most powerful members of the U.N., are rushing aid to the opposing forces as fast as they can.

Egypt and Israel have been fighting each other since the dawn of history; it is not likely that anyone can stop them, but we could quit pouring fuel on the fire.

The Question Needs An Answer

By CARROLL WILSON

For the more skeptical of the nation's electorate, for those who believed Spiro Agnew when he declared his innocence, for those who have watched the Nixon administration undermine the highest of American institutions, it was only a logical question.

A television newsman asked the question of Henry Kissinger, the Nobel-prize winning Secretary of State, and upon his head fell the wrath of Barry Goldwater and then the wrath of President Nixon.

The newsman asked a question rather than stating a fact. An uncomfortable question, to be sure, but a logical question just the same.

What relationship, he asked, is there between the alert of American soldiers in the heightened Middle East conflict and the President's involvement in a domestic mess centering on the Watergate? The implication, of course, being that the President might have used the troop alert as a convenient tool to swing public opinion to his side, thereby turning the public mind from affairs of his administration to some external enemy.

It was a question any responsible reporter would have asked. Becasuse it was a question gnawing at the back of the mind of many Americans.

But, Sen. Goldwater gave the press unmitigated hell for even thinking such a thing.

And, the President, after patting himself on the back during his Friday night press conference, also turned on the press and flatly said he has no respect for the press.

It would be too easy for Americans to watch the press conferences and read reports of the Presidential statements and conclude that the press is out to get President Nixon and it is because of the press that all is not right in America.

The obvious animosity between the Washington press corps and the President has some historic underpinning.

Recall that it was through Agnew that Nixon began his assault on the press not long after taking office. Even before that it was a sour-faced Nixon who blamed the press for his defeat in 1960.

It was a Nixon administration that brought on a constitutional crisis when several large newspapers published excerpts of the Pentagon Papers. A constitutional crisis involving a basic liberty as outlined in the First Amendment.

And, it is a Nixon administration which has been indicted by its own actions as corrupt. The Watergate incident happened. It was not manufactured — by newspapers.

The President's attempts to place himself above the law before last weekend and his refusal to give up his tape recordings are facts. The guilt of his vice president is a fact.

Nixon's firing of Archibald Cox because Cox claimed allegiance to a higher law, his charge to seek the truth wherever it might lead, is a fact.

But, while it is only back-of-the-mind speculation that the President might have trumped up a crisis to focus attention on something other than the plight of his own administration, whether that too is a fact can only be ascertained through questions, however distasteful to the man being questioned.

Nixon has proven himself adept at turning public opinion from one issue to another. Initially, he focused public attention on an internal enemy—the press. Then, he focused public opinion on an external enemy—the Russians. Now, he's back to the press again.

Is it wrong for men who make their living asking questions, who make their living digging for news to keep the people informed, to delve deeper than the surface on a given issue in an effort to build a comlete picture of the truth?

And, that is the crux of the issue. President Nixon suffers a credibility chasm. Who can tell when he's telling the truth, when he's telling a half-truth, when he's lying?

Obviously, the Washington press corps believes it has not always been told the whole truth. It distrusts Nixon. Politicians and the press are virtually natural enemies. And, Nixon realizes this. But, it makes good political hay to district the people from one trail to focus on another trail.

The fact that the Washington press corps does not trust the Preisdent should tell us something—not everything to be sure—but something about the President.

Can there be something to the press's general skepticism about Nixon?

It does not bode well for the country when the people will allow a basic right to be trod upon or basic institutions to be undermined, in defense of a man who's proven record is far from unblemished, a man who deserves close scrutiny by all who cherish the American liberties.

It is ironic that if the local option elction passes in Canyon, liquor may be the only commodity student petitioners buy in Canyon.

Merchants have long known that most students do their shopping either in Amarillo or in their home towns.

But, now one of the primary rationales the student petitioners are using in their liquor vote campaign is an argument which implies they want to help Canyon grow.

Thepetitioners use the argument that liquor will attract students to the campus, will attract people to Canyon and will increase revenues to the city and county.

Whatever the liquor sales might bring in revenue to the city and county would be negligible in permit fees.

But, the argument holds even less water when Canyon businessmen look at the record of student spending in the city. Were their concern for the future of Canyon real, they would be shopping here and not in Amarillo.

Martha McMullan, journalsim teacher at Palo Duro High in Amarillo, told me last week that the poll she circulated at PDHS concerning what faculty members thought about their students was also circulated in other Amarillo high schools primarily due to the effort of Mrs. Nancy Crawley, journalism teacher at Amarillo High.

Now, I understand although I haven't seen a copy, that the AHS newspaper has taken me to task for something.

Let not my only contribution to journalism be that I gave high school newspaper editors something to editorialize about other than school spirit and spitting chewing gum in water fountains.

Thanks To Eagle Boosters

Dear Eagle Booster:

On behalf of the Canyon Eagle Booster Club, I want to thank you for your help in the recent drive to raise money. We had excellent response from the many businesses in Canyon and surrounding community and your participation is appreciated.

The objective of the Eagle Booster Club is to support athletics in the Canyon schools and to build spirit and enthusiasm among the students as well as the townspeople. The athletic program in high school involves a large percentage of the students, considering football, baseball, girls and boys basketball, track, golf and tennis. It means a great deal to the teams and their coaches to have the town behind them and to see a good crowd of cheering fans at their games.

The highlight of our sports calendar year is the All-Sports Banquet in the spring (this year the date is March 29, 1974) when all athletes are recognized and athletic awards are presented. The Eagle Booster Club pays for the banquet meal for the athletes, as well as the costs of a dance which follows. Tickets will be on sale and you are invited to attend this banquet and enjoy the festivities that climax the athletic year.

Thanks again for your help, and we'll see you at the game!

Canyon Eagle Booster Club
Roy Forehand
President

P.S. Booster Club meetings are each Monday, 7 p.m. at the First National Bank (north door) during football season, and periodically during the rest of the year. Notice of meetings will be in the Canyon News.

Reader Approves Of Liquor Vote

Dear Editor:

This is in reply to the article in last Sunday's News on the meeting held by the anti-liquor people in Canyon. In the article it was stated that the entire city of Canyon, not just WTSU, was included in the liquor vote. I believe if the law is checked, that it reads that liquor or alcoholic beverages cannot be served or sold within 300 feet of a state supported college, church or public school. Thus, it would kind of exclude the remark that "IT" included WTSU.

For years the question of liquor in Canyon has been floating around. Also, the enrollment of WTSU has been floating around, and primarily down. The people of Canyon probably don't realize it, but WTSU and the students do support their local merchants. Without WTSU, Canyon could easily become the size of Happy or Idalou. I heard once that 38 per cent of the people who live in Canyon are employed in some capacity by WTSU. Take away these jobs and students all together and you resort back to what some people in Canyon seem to really want. One church, one school, and maybe one red light. Also, one sheriff, and one city policeman, but probably the policeman wouldn't be needed, because each night, one man could roll up the sidewalks at sunset.

The point I am trying to make is that WTSU is in Canyon and does keep Canyon economically sound and moving with the times, reluctantly however. Maybe some people will realize this, maybe not. Some people won't listen to anyone but themselves.

I would like to remind the people that are so strongly against liquor by the drink that they are the same ones who go to WET Amarillo and buy their clothes and groceries and books, etc. It would seem that if they are so strongly opposed to liquor, that they would stay in safe Canyon and away from "Sin City" to the north.

It is kind of like the old saying about things, "it's great for the blacks to have equal rights in this country, as long as they don't try it on my block." Liquor is great for Amarillo, but it is wrong for Canyon. This is kind of hard to understand because every 18 year old who drinks has to go to Amarillo to purchase his beverages. Yet, anyone, and I mean anyone, from one year to 110 can buy any kind of dope they want in Canyon. I guess the reasoning on this is that you can see a liquor store or bar but you can't see the pusher, young or old, selling his stuff, so we continue to ignore this fact. Like the old saying goes, "Ignore it and hope it goes away." Well, the dries are not ignoring it and it won't go away.

Now for the thing that really set me off. In the article it was stated that there was a suggestion concerning the publication of the names of the persons who signed the liquor petition. While we are at it, why don't we go over to the WT library and look up everything we can about the Salem witch trials and just get together and have a good old fashioned witch hunt. Or better still, why don't we have all the liquor stores and bars, not leaving out Hunsley Hills Club and the Canyon Country Club, require all people entering or purchasing merchandise in their establishments present a drivers license or ID to find out if they live in Canyon. If they have a Canyon address, make them sign a list for publication so everyone will know who is doing what.

Wouldn't this be a great idea? Then, all these people of all ages, could be banished from the city limits of Canyon. This way, no one would ever have to worry about another liquor vote because all of these undesirables would no longer live in Canyon, pay their taxes or have a voice or vote in city affairs.

Does this sound silly? Well, don't laugh too much, for in these days of dope pushers, lawlessness, and political skullduggery, anything is possible, excluding none.

However, the rabid dries shouldn't lose any sleep over it, because the students at WTSU are famous for talking up a big liquor election but always in the past when it got right down to it they couldn't muster enough people together to have a good game of skittle pool.

Fish 'n Fowl

The outlook for waterfowl hunters looks very good for this weekend. Pintails, Mallards and other ducks are in the area in large numbers already, but again the geese haven't arrived yet as far as I can tell. Thursday, which was opening day, saw very few hunters in the field. Out north of Dawn the ducks blackened the sky as they fed in the corn and maize fields. There were a few geese also honking as they were leaving one of the lakes in that area.

In the pre-dawn light as shooting time arrived, the hunting was good, but as the day progressed the action slowed because of the pretty weather.

There is an old proverb which states that in bad weather (wind, overcast, cold) anyone can kill birds. It's very true, and I believe a lot of hunters are waiting around for that first blue northern to come down.

Hunters who need information concerning the duck point system should be advised that it has changed since last year. Some of the 10 pt. ducks are now 20 points.

THS Wins In Tourney At WTSU

Tascosa High School took top honors Friday in a women's golf tournament sponsored at West Texas State University by the WTSU Women's Athletic Association.

The Tascosa team from Amarillo won their team medalist award and a Tascosa student, Donna Avery, won the top singles medalist award.

Other teams entered in the tournament were from Amarillo High, Palo Duro High, Caprock High, Borger and Pampa.

Junior Teams Split

The 9th grade purple football team is now in the number one position in its district due to a win Wednesday over Borger.

The team beat Borger 18-16 to take the district lead, which was previously tied up between the Canyon and Borger teams.

With only two remaining games to play in the district, the 9th graders appear headed for a championship.

Coach Bob Sloan said Borger took the initial lead in the game, going ahead 8-0 early in the game.

But the junior Eagles came back with a 60-yard pass play from Ricky Cooper to Mike Flynn for their first touchdown to tie up the score.

After holding the junior Bulldogs on downs, the 9th graders maneuvered to within 20 yards of paydirt and Jonathan Hull went over on a 20-yard run to put the team ahead 16-8 at the end of the first period.

In the second quarter, the 9th graders hopped on a Bulldog fumble and Joe Luquette during the ensuing series of downs scampered 1 yard to make it a 24-8 ballgame for Canyon.

With three seconds remaining in the half, Cooper fired another direct hit to Flynn for a 30 yard pass play which put the 50th point on the Canyon side of the scoreboard.

Hull finished out Canyon scoring during the third quarter with a 70-yard run and the Bulldogs also scored their final touchdown during the third quarter.

The purple team now stands at 6-0 for the season while carrying a 5-0 standard in district play.

In other junior high action, the 9th grade white team went down to a 0-26 loss to River Road.

Clifford Adams was cited as outstanding offensive lineman, Gary Ward and Doug Palmer shared honors as outstanding offensive backs, Charles Land was named outstanding defensive lineman and Cruz Luna was outstanding defensive back. Outstanding player of the game was Ward.

The 8th grade white scored in every quarter to take a 30-14 win from Borger South.

Robert Scott scored two touchdowns and David McKay scored three times, once in the third quarter and twice in the final quarter.

Jay Morrison was named outstanding player of the game with Timmy May, Mike Bass and Randy Burkuhl sharing honors as outstanding offensive linemen, Robert Scott and David McKay sharing honors as outstanding offensive backs, Morrison named as outstanding defensive lineman and Scott and Brent Anderson sharing honors as outstanding defensive backs.

Next game for the 8th white will be Nov. 1 against Hereford Stanton at 4 p.m. in Canyon.

In taking their win, the white team grabbed third place in the Panhandle Junior High Athletic League.

Statistics-wise the 8th graders tallied 411 yards in their win. Scott, who made 180 yards during the game, is approaching the 1000 yard mark in rushing for the seven games played so far in the season.

The 8th grade purple went down in defeat before the Perryton team 22-45.

Billy Holladay, who amassed 235 of the 188 total yards rushing for the 8th graders, made two scores, one on a 15-yard run in the first quarter, and again in the fourth quarter on a 60-yard run.

Tab Keener made the other score with a 12-yard run.

Tommy Archer was named outstanding offensive lineman. Billy Holladay was named outstanding offensive back, Vince Price was named outstanding defensive lineman and Robert Dustman was named outstanding defensive back. Dustman took home honors as outstanding player of the game.

Special awards went to Larry Gallop for a fumble recovery and Archer for an on-side kick recovery.

Pre 4-H Group Organized Here

Mrs. J. G. Voelm, president of the Westside Home Demonstration Club, came back from the State Home Demonstration Convention in Fort Worth with an idea that she put into action. At the convention, she heard about a program called Pre 4-H. This is for children who are interested in going into 4-H when they reach the age of nine, but want to participate when they are younger.

The name the girls picked for their group is the Queens and there are seven members led by Mrs. Voelm. Members are Melinda Ivy, Tammy Flannery, Leah McClure, Shawna Revel, Gena Root, Roberta Quintana, and Patrika Voelm, who are between the ages of six and seven.

As a special project, the girls toured the Pizza Hut Thursday. Bob Quiggley let the girls watch the preparation of the pizzas, and they took part in the making by adding the toppings. After the pizzas were made, the girls shared a pizza that they had helped with as a treat from Quiggley.

Another project Mrs. Voelm initiated concerns a type of contest. The girls make their beds each morning and put up their clothes each night. If they complete their task, they get to circle the day on a calendar made by Mrs. Voelm with their name on it. Out of twenty-eight days, they get one day a week off, and three days for "I forgot." At the end of the month, each member with 21 circles on her calendar will receive a blue ribbon.

Mrs. Voelm cited a big change in attitude this way, "Before it was 'I don't want to, I'm tired, or some other excuse, but now, they want to make their beds and put up their clothes so they can circle that day and get a blue ribbon."

On Nov. 29, the Queens Pre-4-H Club will tour the Arrowhead Mills in Hereford. Other tours in the offing are the Museum, the greenhouses, perhaps a florist shop and maybe a dairy.

News Briefs

Tuesday, Oct. 30 is the last day for Camp Fire Girl groups to sign up for the candy sales.

Leaders that have not contacted the Camp Fire Girl office in Amarillo are urged to do so in order that they will be included in the sales.

Canyon veterans are invited to attend the third annual Veterans Ball Nov. 9 at the Amarillo Villa Inn. Brig. Gen. David W. Winn, of the U.S. Air Force, will be speaker. He is a former prisoner of war, having been shot down in 1966 over North Vietnam. Tickets may be purchased for $7.50 each from Maj. L. D. Truitt, West Texas State University military science department.

News Columnist Ann Brown Publishes Religious Work

Mrs. Ann Brown

An autograph party to announce publication of her new book will be held for Mrs. Ann Brown, well-known Canyon News columnist and city religious leader, this week.

The autograph session will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Wednesday at Canyon's Buffalo Bookstore. Hostesses for the party will be members of Mrs. Brown's Bible class.

The book, The Scarlet Thread, is a Bible study book written by Mrs. Brown and published recently by The Canyon News.

Copies of the paperback book are currently on sale at the bookstore.

Mrs. Brown said she began writing The Scarlet Thread 20 years ago and through the urging of various students finally followed it to completion.

The original inspiration for the study book came from a Plainview woman who taught Mrs. Brown in the Bible for 15 years.

"It's really her book but I wrote it," Mrs. Brown said, noting that the book is dedicated to that teacher.

It was a student who gave her the impetus to write the book, however, a student who one day enthusiastically urged that Mrs. Brown write down her thoughts on the Bible as she was expressing them to his class.

And, another student, one in Canyon, Mrs. Jean Galloway, was also a moving factor in Mrs. Brown's final publication of the book.

"She found out about it and she typed all my notes and said 'here, we're going to do it'," Mrs. Brown said. "If it hadn't been for my students I would never have gotten it published."

Mrs. Brown was influenced by a 96-year-old friend in Plainview to begin writing.

A housewife, cook, seamstress and mother, Mrs. Brown was told by the elderly woman one day that she should be doing something besides housewifing.

The comment spurred Mrs. Brown to return to college and pursue coursework in psychology and English.

She received her bachelors degree and went on to Texas Tech for a master's degree in English.

She taught five years at West Texas State University.

Once Mrs. Brown began writing, she couldn't stop.

She is currently a weekly columnist in The Canyon News, writing a social commentary column entitled Our World.

Mrs. Brown has also written other book-length works and is currently negotiating for the publication of a novel.

Mrs. Brown said the title for her most recent publication is taken from a Bible passage dealing with the spies who entered Jericho for the Israelites and escaped from a window house by way of a scarlet rope. They subsequently told the woman to use the scarlet rope to identify her house and she and her loved ones would be spared when Jericho fell.

Her book "emphasizes that all who are behind the blood of Christ are saved when destruction comes," she said.

Mrs. Brown teaches Sunday school classes at First Baptist Church here and also teaches a Bible study class on Sunday evenings in a non-denominational setting.

Raun MacKinnon To Perform Today

The Student Activities Council at West Texas State University launches its Young Artist Series today with a performance by singer-composer Raun Mac Kinnon at 8 p.m. in Cousins Hall.

The Philadelphia songstress' performance here is free to the public, a SAC spokesman said.

Miss MacKinnon began recording albums in the mid-sixties. But her quiet, introspective style went unrecognized during the wave of ear-splitting hard rock that catapulted to fame such female performers as Janis Joplin, Gracie Slick and Linda Ronstadt.

The young performer has performed on numerous college campuses throughout the country and in clubs and coffeehouses including The Bitter End, The Cellar Door, The Main Point and The Bistro.

With her musical style most influenced by song craftswomen like Nina Simone and Carmen McRae, Miss MacKinnon has been described as "a contemporary poet and minstrel who writes and sings songs about yesterday and tomorrow in the genre of today."

Two Weeks Remain For Local 'Wets'

Students on the West Texas State University campus are circulating petitions to call a local option liquor election in Canyon here and two more weeks to gather the required 1500 valid signatures.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton said the petitions are due in his office on Nov. 8. They are to be presented Randall County commissioners on Nov. 12 for consideration.

Charlie Cullen, student who is heading the petition campaign, could not be reached for comment on the number of signatures he has obtained.

Jaycee Meeting Set Thursday

A special meeting of the Jaycees will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Cowboy Grocery on U.S. 60.

Mike Rep. Phil Cates of Pampa announced the meeting and urged Canyon men between the ages of 18 and 35 to attend the meeting.

"Young men who are concerned about the community in which they live should become involved with the Jaycees," Cates, a graduate of West Texas State University, said. He is a Jaycee.

Faith Chapel Berox Supper

The Faith Chapel will have a special Berox (German meat pie) Supper Wednesday night in the recreation room of the Bible Education Bldg., 2nd St. and 2nd Ave., from 5 to 8 p.m.

In addition to the Berox, salad and dessert will be served.

The supper is sponsored by the ladies of the Church.

Those attending may eat at the Bible Bldg., or take their suppers home.

Alpha Theta Delta Chapter Of BSP Hears Area Meet Reviewed

Mrs. Steve Hines was hostess to the Alpha Theta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi's Model Meeting Monday evening.

Chapter president, Mrs. James Hill, presided over the business meeting. The order of business included a report from Chapter members who attended the Northwest Texas Area Convention held last week in Hereford.

The two day meeting was attended by four members. Guest speaker from the international office of Beta Sigma Phi was Rose Marie Christion, and the convention theme was Hawaiian Adventure in '73.

Mrs. Mary Alice Hines, yearbook committee chairman, and the yearbook committee were congratulated for having won 3rd place with the Alpha Theta Delta Chapter yearbook in the convention competition.

Chapter officers and chairmen presented the program. Each one told something about Beta Sigma Phi and its functions. Scrapbooks and chapter mementos were displayed for guests enjoyment.

Guests present were Mesdames Dennis Bethel, Richard Ortiz, Larry Daniels, and chapter advisor Mrs. Johnny Robinson.

Members in attendance were Mesdames Hill, Kenny Conway, Ray Grimes, Hines, Henry Lewis, Mike Lewis, Dick Maxwell, Paul Stevenson, and Leslie Stone.

A Halloween costume party was held Friday night.

Stewarts Greet Baby Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stewart, Amarillo, announce the birth of a daughter, Sheryl Ann, born Oct. 24, at Neblett Memorial Hospital. She weighed 4 lbs. 9 ozs. and measured 17½ inches in length at birth.

Sheryl Ann has one sister, Donna Lou, age 4½ years.

Maternal grandparents are Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Mobley, Tucson, Ariz.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Allen Stewart, Friona.

Mr. Stewart is a certified public accountant.

Haunted House Continues

Miss going to the haunted house Friday or Saturday? Don't despair, all the monsters are going to be there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, so there's still time to be scared.

The haunted house along with all its scary contents and surprises is located at 23rd St. and 8th Ave. in Canyon.

The Canyon Band Parents Association is sponsoring the house and the proceeds will go to help finance the Canyon Band's trip to Anaheim, Calif., for the National Music Educators' Conference.

People of all ages are welcome to tour the haunted house for the price of 50 cents each. Small price for all the chills and thrills to be received.

Halloween Carnival Set For Wednesday

There will be something for everyone at the Halloween carnival Wednesday evening at the Bull Barn and Canyon Community Center.

The hungry will be taken care of by the Home Demonstration Clubs who will be serving frito pie, sandwiches, cup cakes, coffee and witches brew, the PTA has cotton candy and snow cones covered, Beta Sigma Phi will have hot chocolate, slices of cake and pies, and in addition to apple bobbing, the Alpha Theta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be selling popcorn balls and popcorn.

Fun games and prize winning events will be the Heritage Women's Club Toy Walk, Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae Cake Walk, Juniorette Club Pennies in a Jar, University Study Club Basketball Throw, Noon Lions Club Bingo, Canyon Dames nickle toss, Umbarger 4-H fish pond, Rotary Club Coke toss, the Canyon High School Choir is having a car bash, and UMYF is having sifting sand for cents.

Jars were placed with local merchants last week with a picture of one of the candidates for Halloween Queen on each jar. A penny in the jar is a vote for that candidate. The Canyon Study Club will announce the name of the queen at the carnival, and will have a queen booth.

Candidates and their sponsors are Rotary Club, Becky Boston; Home Demonstration Club, Rhonda Davis; Heritage Women's Club, Jackie Skarke; University Study Club, Krista White; Juniorette Club, Susan Wright; Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae, Stacy McAlpine; Alpha Delta Theta, Niki Knowles; Beta Sigma Phi, Terry Costley; UMYF, Susan Bonifield; Canyon Dames, Kim Bagley; and Umbarger 4-H, Brenda Batenhorst.

The Canyon Study Club invites the public to have some Halloween fun with the kids, and visit the Halloween Carnival.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitney, 1007 5th St., announce the birth of a son, Michael Robert, born Oct. 21, at Neblett Memorial Hospital, weighing 9 lbs. 3 ozs. and measuring 21½ inches in length.

Michael has two brothers and one sister, Rodney, Ronnie and Janelle.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Taylor, Norton, Kan.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Whitney, Norton, Kan.

Mr. Whitney is a service instructor for New Holland Machinery Co.

Burrus Services Set Monday

Bradley Austell Burrus, 67, Canyon farmer-stockman and former member of the board of directors of the Randall County Coop and Farm Bureau, died early Saturday morning in a hospital at Mount Vernon, Mo., where he had been visiting his daughter.

Funeral services are scheduled at 10 a.m. Monday at the First Baptist Church of Canyon. The Rev. Bill Foil will conduct. Burial is in Dreamland.

Pallbearers include Dennis Burrus, Jack Metcalf, Jack Burrus, Wes Bourn, Bruce Winn and Harold Root. Honorary pallbearers will be members of the Daniel Sunday School class at the church.

Survivors include two sons, Troy of Amarillo, and Austell of Stinnett; one daughter, Mrs. Gwynn Andrews of Missouri; four brothers, H.W. of 2508 10th Ave.; R.A. (Babe), northeast of Canyon; Tony, northeast of city; Herschel of Hereford; four sisters, Mrs. Ed Bourn of 2400 10th Ave.; Mrs. Ray Metcalf, north of city; Mrs. Verla Simpson of Tulia; Mrs. Joe Hagar of Panhandle, and seven grandchildren.

The family requests that all memorials be directed to the building fund of the First Baptist Church or to a favorite charity, said a spokesman of LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Burrus was born in Clay County, Texas and had resided in Randall County since 1920. He was a former member of the Randall County School Board.

CHS Junior Varsity Ends Slump With Win Over Friona JV 25-0

The Canyon High School junior varsity pulled out of a late season slump this week by defeating the Friona JV 25-0.

Until two weeks ago, the junior Eagles had gone undefeated.

Stan Prichard began the scoring action for the JV team in the first quarter with a 3-yard run. Then, in the third quarter, Allen Shankles passed to Prichard for 36 yards and the second touchdown. A Rusty Holliday kick made the score 13-0.

A pass interception by Lyndon Brazile was good for another six points, when he returned the tagged aerial for 45 yards to paydirt in the fourth quarter.

Holliday ran the final JV score for 2 yards in the fourth quarter to give the Eagles their final edge 25-0.

Holliday led JV groundgainers with 87 yards, followed by Ron Mills with 70 and Stan Prichard and Brazile with 63 yards each.

Defense leaders were Kenny Basinger with four tackles, Jack Wright, Stan Prichard and Danny Rea with three each.

David Coronado also recovered a fumble and Brazile and Holliday intercepted passes.

Most valuable player awards went to offensive lineman Jimmy Foil, offensive back Stan Prichard, defensive lineman Terry Hayhurst and defensive back Lyndon Brazile.

Next game for the junior varsity is Thursday when they meet Dumas at Dumas at 7 p.m.

In your business and at home, electricity is something you can hardly do without. We care about your need for electricity . . . that's why we're continually researching new ways to provide you with the power you need.

Today, natural gas is our most abundant source of fuel, and we use it wisely for the purpose of providing you with kilowatts that are 100% usable.

Tomorrow other sources will be needed. We'll be able to use them, and you'll still be using your electric outlets — with never an interruption. The possibilities are only as limited as man's imagination and ingenuity.

Fusion, nuclear, breeder reactor . . . yesterday those words were science fiction. Today they're the promise of tomorrow.

You can be sure that the electric appliance or machine you buy today can still be used tomorrow . . . because it is electric.

Sue Hite Club Met Monday

Mrs. A. H. Prichard, Mrs. W. F. Haggard and Mrs. Robert Splawn each discussed local, area, and national pollution problems and some different ways that are being used or talked about for possible solutions in the program titled "Study of Ecology."

The program was presented in keeping with the study theme of "America What Time Is It?" for the Sue Hite Study Club meeting Monday afternoon. Those giving the program were introduced by program Chairman, Mrs. W. E. Miller.

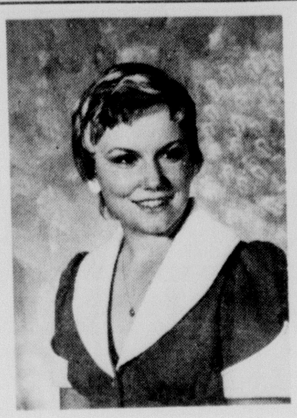
Mrs. Rex Reeves held the meeting in her home with the help of co-hostesses Mrs. D. M. Foster, Mrs. Wendell Cain, and Mrs. Mitchell Jones.

The club president, Mrs. Virginia Allen presided over the meeting and Mrs. E. E. Perkins gave the opening invocation.

Mrs. Otus Parker was appointed the official Sue Hite Hostess and coordinator for the city-wide federated club game night to be held Dec. 1.

November club activities will include the Federated Club dinner, for all federated study clubs in Canyon, that will be held Nov. 5 at the Canyon Jr. High School at 7 p.m.

The next regular meeting will be held Nov. 26 in the home of Mrs. Virginia Allen, 301 26th St.



Miss Karen Sue Persall

Persall-Crager Tell Wedding Plans

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Persall, Amarillo, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Karen Sue to Bruse Lee Crager, the son of Mrs. Ada Crager, Canyon, and Dr. Ted Crager, Miami, Fla.

The date set for the wedding to be held at the Trinity Baptist Church, Amarillo, is December 22.

The bride-elect is presently attending Amarillo College and is majoring in secretarial science. She is employed by Garner Motor Co., Amarillo.

Crager is attending Texas A&M University where he is on the Dean's list, and is majoring in marine engineering.

Canyon Women Attend Rural Homemakers Day

The Home Demonstration Club presidents and Home Demonstration Council delegates from Randall County were invited to attend Rural Homemakers Day sponsored by the Women's Division of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce this week in Amarillo.

The day was for representatives of Home Demonstration Clubs throughout the Golden Spread, which includes the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, and parts of New Mexico.

Each member attending received a bag of gifts from Amarillo merchants and a chance at a number of door prizes.

Dr. Winfred Moore, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, was guest speaker at the luncheon. He spoke on the preservation of the family and marriage.

Two workshops of interest to homemakers were given. One dealt with freezing foods. A handy hint given at this workshop concerned how to prevent freezer burn when freezing in plastic bags. The trick is to crush the top of the bag, insert a straw, suck the remaining air out, and quickly seal the bag. Another tip given homemakers was on removing corn from the cob. It was suggested that they place the small end of the cob in the hole in an angel food cake pan, and scrape the corn off. This allows the corn to fall into the pan with no mess involved.

The other workshop presented involved the lady and her car. Two films were shown, one on how the engine works, and the other on emission control devices, why they are used and what they do. The ladies were instructed how to diagnose some simple car ailments and how to report them to the mechanic.

Club presidents and delegates invited were from Edgetown Club, Mrs. Max Bosley, Pres. and Mrs. Joe Frank, delegate; Highland Club, Mrs. Bernard Grabber, pres., and Mrs. Boyd Elliott, delegate; Jowell Club, Mrs. James Dietz, pres., and Mrs. Ervin J. Davis, delegate; Palisades Club, Mrs. Buster Carlisle, pres., and Mrs. Charlie Hooker, delegate; Palo Duro Rusk Club, Mrs. A. R. Northcutt, pres., and Mrs. Bill West, delegate; Pleasantview Club, Mrs. Robert Rice, pres., and Mrs. Edgar Robinson, delegate; Sunnyhill Club, Mrs. Carl Bryan, pres., and Mrs. O. O. Henry, delegate; and Westside Club, Mrs. J. G. Voelm, pres., and delegate.

Westside Home Demo Hears 4-H Program

The Westside Home Demonstration Club met last Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Lewis Tucek.

Mrs. J. G. Voelm, president, called the regular meeting to order and presided over the business.

Julia Wheeler, 4-H consultant, presented the program on 4-H in Randall County. 4-H is a youth development program for ages 9-19 under the supervision of the County Commissioners, John Brazzil, County Agent and Becky Hall, County Extension Agent. She cited that there are 14,600 4-H'ers in Texas and 190 of them are in Randall County. Some of the projects in 4-H related by Mrs. Wheeler were livestock, veterinary science, foods, clothing, home improvement, automotive, horses, dog care, bicycle safety, rifle safety, and child care.

Those present were Mesdames C. H. Andrews, Ed Bourn, Paul Cornette, Lewis Harvey, Radford McKay, Fred Richard, R. A. Burrus, Ralph Ruthart, Ray Metcalf, and J. G. Voelm.

Guests present were Mrs. Margaret Friemel and Mrs. Julia Wheeler.

The next regular meeting will be Nov. 7 in the home of Mrs. Paul Glovier.

Last Program In Mulligan Stew TV Series Monday

The final program in the "Mulligan Stew" 4-H series will be shown Monday, in Canyon elementary classrooms.

"The Racer That Lost His Edge" is about a fat race car driver, who keeps losing, and his new bride, who keeps stuffing him with goodies. They learn why a healthy body is for champions, and that you are what you eat, that you have to plan right, buy right and prepare right.

The Mulligan Stews help the race car driver and his wife learn that it is more important to eat following a nutrition principle like 4-4-3-2 than to just fill up on goodies.

Children will be told to watch for the importance of the correct number of servings in the four basic food groups and how being filled up is not always good eating. When they are through watching the program they will be able to tell why the racer was not winning, and will be able to explain that just being full of food is not necessarily good eating, and what the racer's wife found out about good meal planning.

Pleasantview Home Demo Club Met Wed.

Mrs. John Jennings was hostess to the Pleasantview Home Demonstration Club in her home Wednesday.

Club president, Mrs. Joe Rice presided over the business meeting. Business consisted of the reading of recommendations from the Home Demonstration Council and a discussion concerning the Halloween Carnival.

Julia Wheeler, 4-H Coordinator, gave a program on New and Existing 4-H Programs in Randall County.

Members present were Mesdames Joe Rice, John Jennings, J. H. Barrett, Earl Burtz, Allen Downing, John Robinson, and Albert Meyer.

The next meeting will be a Thanksgiving luncheon with Mrs. Cristler Crain Nov. 14.

Miss Roseanne Olson

Mrs. Coffee Hosts 1925 Bridge Club

Mrs. Hershel Coffee used roses from her garden as decorations for the serving table in her home as she was hostess to the recent meeting of the 1925 Bridge Club.

She served a dessert course and coffee to her guests who were Mesdames Iverson Leake, Tom Knighton, T. V. Crounse, A. H. Prichard, Roscoe Davis, Ray McReynolds, E. E. Perkins, Jewell Hill, Virginia Allen, Fannie Laas, and Mrs. James Jennings was the club's guest.

Olson-Ham Plan To Wed In Dec.

The First Presbyterian Church of Canyon is the site chosen for the Dec. 22 wedding of Roseanne Olson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Olson, Canyon, and Charles E. Ham, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Ham, south Amarillo.

The bride-elect is a 1971 graduate of Canyon High School and is presently a junior student at the Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing.

Ham is also a 1971 graduate of Canyon High School and is engaged in farming south of Amarillo.

Palo Duro Rusk Home Demo Club

Mrs. Bill West was hostess to the Palo Duro Rusk Home Demonstration club Tuesday in her home. She served her guests pumpkin pie, whipped cream and spiced tea.

Roll call was answered by members relating what skill they had learned in home demonstration work.

Mrs. A. R. Northcutt, club president, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. West took the club members to visit the Canyon Art Gallery after refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be Nov. 13 in the home of Mrs. Henry F. Miller.

Travels With Every Man. . .

(Ed. Note: Take a vicarious trip through Europe, the Middle East or wherever Andy Hull may take you through these columns. Andy is on his way to nobody knows where, and through this column he'll give his friends in Canyon a look at far away places through the eyes of someone with time to see, an interest to hear and a curiosity to look behind the tourist traps. Andy grew up in Canyon and attended the University of Texas. During the past year he's worked as a construction worker, a shrimp fisherman and has travelled about Europe. He's the son of Mrs. T. G. Hull Jr.

By ANDY HULL

:Hey buddy, that's not the place where the bus stops for the Magical Mystery Tour. It's over here.

:I wasn't really waiting for the bus.

:What are you doing just now?

:Nothing much actually, sort of browsing through this newspaper.

:Well, you can come on the trip and not even set down your newspaper. It isn't for people on the bus exclusively.

I am Andy Hull and if I can maneuver this typewriter down the road we should be seeing some pretty interesting territory. Ever since I was a kid growing up in Canyon and in Austin I have been entranced by the possibility of some new experience or some new knowledge around the next bend, by "the stream uncrossed, the promise still untried."

I have traveled this medium till I have just about worn out my eyes. When I was young I traveled with explorers, leaders of primitive and modern countries, with adventurers and seekers. I have traveled heavily about the Cosmos with authors of fantasy and speculation. I have traveled with historians and politicians, and I have traveled through the myriads of utopias and the dreams of idealists. These travels have been under the auspices of veritable institutions like Mrs. Harter, Mrs. Sunderman, and Mrs. Patterson.

Now I am embarked on what is for me a different kind of journey. I have the basic necessities on my back in a ruck sack and I am "Going on the road," because I just have to see what is around the next corner. It is a well traveled road I am taking. Many have gone before me on this road. Some have returned smarter, some dumber, and for one reason or the other, some haven't come back at all.

I am bound for the mountains and the deserts, for the forests and the plains, for civilization and desolation.

A good way to form some boundaries to my intended journey is to suppose that I won't do much traveling off the earth. That doesn't mean I won't go elsewhere if I get the chance, just that the possibilities for that look rather slim. Those places I have actively thought of going to include Scotland, Berlin, Nepal, Israel, Saudia Arabia, and any place in between. Of course, I have tried not to be narrow minded, so I haven't really ruled out Scandanavia, Africa, Russia, China, and Australia. Some of those places are a bit far-fetched, but given the chance, I will jump at it.

In doing this writing thing, I am a correspondent, an interpreter, a liaison, and a scout (and hopefully a writer). If I am able to fulfill my roles, there will be things about folks around the world, things about what they do, how they live, what they think, who lived there before them and about where they live.

There'll be something new, something old,

Something someone wants to be told.

Something far, something near,

Something someone wants to hear.

type thing," he said.

Sheriff Cliff Longest said the current jail, built in 1956, has a current capacity of 44 and could hold 64 with minor remodeling.

But, he noted, the annual average on prisoner population is about 15 prisoners, less than half the current capacity.

"It's in excellent shape," Longest said, noting the county is making every effort to comply with guidelines established by U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes last year.

Longest said some financing might be needed to bring the jail to standards established by Mrs. Hughes, but said "there isn't a jail in the state of Texas that complies with the guidelines."

The sheriff has long held to the opinion that a combined jail facility on the county line would be a disadvantage to the sheriff's department since it would require the constant shuffling of prisoners from the jail to the Canyon courthouse and back.

Police still seeking two on city drug charges

Canyon police and Randall County deputies are still seeking two local persons on warrants alleging charges of sale of marijuana in connection with a drugnet which began in the city Wednesday.

Four Canyon men were arrested Wednesday and two have been released from Randall County jail on bond.

Chief of Police Al Stewart said officers are still seeking a man believed to be in Oklahoma and a man believed to be either in Houston or California. Warrants for their arrest charge them with sale of marijuana.

Arrested Wednesday were Robert Burns Olson, 24, of 2519 13th Ave., James Edwin Tucker, 22, of Umbarger, Joe Kent Shepic, 17, of 413 Holman Lane and Terril Edwin Crow, 22, of 2305-C 7th Ave.

Olson, Tucker and Shepic are charged with sale of marijuana and Crow is charged with possession of marijuana and delivery of a controlled substance.

Shepic was released from jail Thursday morning after making $2000 bond set by Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson. Crow was also released after making $6000 bond on the three counts set by Dist. Judge Don Dean Wednesday afternoon.

Tucker and Olson remain in jail in lieu of $2000 bond each.

Officers said Shepic was the only one of those arrested now a student in Canyon.

The six charges were filed as a result of five months of work by an undercover agent, whose identity was revealed during a separate trial in 181st District Court on Wednesday.

Ron King, a transient hired by the Canyon Police Department as undercover agent in mid-June, appeared as a prosecution witness Wednesday during the trial of Jimmy E. Morrison, found innocent later that day on charges of assault with intent to rape.

King, under examination by prosecutor Jim Blair and defense attorney Jim Brown, revealed that he had made several cases in Canyon during his tenure as an undercover agent.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen told The News that his office decided to make the arrests on the sale cases allegedly made by King after they learned King was to testify and feared the possibility his cover would be revealed during the Morrison trial.

Thus, officers began making arrests early on Wednesday morning.

Stewart said the number of charges filed this week in the drugnet was the largest number in Canyon history.

Previously, large raids have been made in Potter and Randall counties, but until Wednesday no Canyon residents were arrested.

Drain . . .

to Amarillo due to gasoline costs and the time spent.

A small town, such as Canyon, cannot expect to boost its retail sales through the efforts of only an individual or a few businessmen, he said.

"You must have a concerted effort to boost retail activity in the community," he said. "You've got to some way cause the consumer to want to stay in the community to spend his money."

Lewis said while some small town economies are drying up, particularly in the eastern portion of the country, the future looks bright for communities west of the Mississippi River.

And, he counted Canyon's economic future as bright also.

With the increased demand for foodstuffs from the nation's farmers, a demand based on foreign as well as domestic use, Lewis said the agricultural economic base of some smaller communities can be expected to broaden.

Canyon can expect that broadening, too, in the agricultural segment.

Lewis believes with new housing available in the city, Canyon can expect to attract many urban dwellers from Amarillo.

But, a key to the economic health of Canyon will be the health of WTSU.

"With the relationship between the university and the city, Canyon can't afford to have the enrollment go down," he said.

News Brief

Local volunteers in the American Cancer Society have been invited to attend an 8-hour basic orientation course to be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on Nov. 1, 7 and 15 at St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Amarillo. Certificates will be presented for completion of the orientation.

McGlasson Semifinalist For Merit Scholarship

Canyon High School senior Dan McGlasson has been named as a semifinalist in the 1974 National Merit Scholarship program, it was announced recently by CHS principal John Sommer.

McGlasson is among the 15,000 semifinalists in the nation who were the highest scorers on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) administered last October to over one million students in about 17,000 schools nationwide.

Dan McGlasson

Commended for outstanding scholarship in the National Merit competition were CHS students Vern Zimmerman, Teresa Dilworth and Royce Holladay.

McGlasson will be competing with other national semifinalists for about 3,100 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring.

According to Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, the semifinalists are representative of the nation's "most academically talented young people," constituting about one-half of one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

NMSC identifies the semifinalists to all regionally accredited U.S. colleges and universities. This recognition is said to be highly useful to semifinalists seeking financial aid from sources other than the Merit program, and in the process of gaining admission to college.

In order to qualify as finalists in the competition, semifinalists must fulfill requirements that include receiving the endorsement of their schools, confirming their high PSAT/NMSQT scores on a second examination, and by providing evidence of their academic and other accomplishments.

Ninety per cent or more of the semifinalists are expected to become finalists.

Each finalist will receive a certificate of merit and will be considered for one of 1,000 National Merit Scholarships amounting to about $1,000 each. Scholarships are allocated on a state basis, according to each state's percentage of the total U.S. high school graduating class.

Many of the finalists will also be considered for renewable four-year Merit Scholarships supported by some 450 corporations, foundations, professional associations, colleges and other agencies. Winners are expected to be announced next spring, a spokesman said.

McGlasson, a member of the CHS Honor Society and the school chapter of International Thespians, scored 210 points out of a best possible score of 240. In order to meet qualification as a finalist, McGlasson must be a top scorer on a second examination, the Scholastic Aptitude Test, which the senior will be taking Saturday.

The CHS scholar, who will be graduating this spring, says he plans to attend either Baylor University or West Texas State University as a pre-med student.

transfer of land may be made only by petition, with the petition signed by "a majority of the qualified voters residing in each territory to be detached. . ."

No reference is made in the article to other ways in which annexation might be accomplished. No provision is made in the article for trading of land between two districts or for a kind of purchase agreement between two districts.

Section 19.261 of the Texas Education Code follows the statute closely.

Both provide a public hearing must be held before the county school trustees may take action.

News Brief

Olan J. Lehman of West Texas State University recently returned from the Texas Nursing Home Association's regional educational workshop in Amarillo.

Eagles . . .

and took the lead 12-0.

Canyon took over on the ensuing kick-off and executed their drive with excellence, moving the ball on the arm of Lair and through Brad Martin, Gary Bednorz and Jimmy Ward, who had an outstanding night in the backfield, to paydirt in the next series of plays.

Lair hit Martin for a 23-yard pass for a key first down which put the ball on the Demon 16 yard line just as the third quarter ended.

On a fourth down situation with nine yards to go, Lair dropped back and lobbed a pass into the arms of Martin who was hauled down on the three-yard line.

Two more running plays up the center by Lair and the Eagles had a touchdown with just 58 seconds gone in the fourth stanza.

The kick by Wilson was good and the Eagles trailed by only 12-7.

The Eagle defense tightened on the Demon possession and forced a punt to their own 46-yard line. With 8:40 remaining in the game, the Eagles began their second drive to paydirt.

With power plays to the middle and key first downs by Ward, Canyon found itself on the 15-yard line. Lair ran a keeper around right end for five yards and Bednorz went up the center for another five. Lair kept the ball for the first down and landed on the three-yard line. He took the ball in the final three for the final Eagle score with three minutes remaining in the game.

A Lair pass to Dennis Collier was good for the two-point conversion and the Eagles held a satisfying 15-12 lead.

The Eagle defense showed remarkable spark as it held a potentially dangerous Dumas drive in check following the ensuing kick-iff and the game ended with the Eagles pressing for another score on the Demon 25-yard line.

In taking their win, the Eagles made 254 total yards compared to 319 for the Demons and had 18 first downs compared to 19 for the Demons. Lair completed eight of 16 passes for 92 yards.

Ward amassed 100 yards rushing in 14 carries for the Eagles followed by Bednorz with 27.

Leading groundgainer for the Demons was Laughry with 106.

The Eagles meet another district opponent, Perryton, at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Perryton.

WT Administrators Ready For Move To Amarillo Office

President Lloyd I. Watkins said Friday that West Texas State University will open administrative offices in Amarillo Monday.

The president and Keith Winter, new director of development, will have offices in Suite 1800 of the American National Bank building at Tyler and Seventh streets.

Both administrators will continue to have offices on the Canyon campus, Dr. Watkins said.

"When I began my presidency," Watkins said, "I promised we were going to become more involved with the world outside the campus. This move is the partial fulfillment of that promise.

"One of my major concerns is to involve WTSU more and more with the Texas Panhandle. In fact, we are beginning to see ourselves more and more as the University of the Golden Spread," the president said.

Winter said, "A majority of my work in the development field concerns making contacts in the Amarillo business community. It makes sense for us to be more accessible."

A public reception inaugurating the new offices is planned in the near future.

A hearing on the petition will be scheduled when the psychiatric exams are completed.

Dowlen said the 22-month-old child has been released from the hospital.

The commission has committed itself to coming up with full plans for both buildings and Loudder said development of the full project would offer considerable savings even if the commission decides not to build the activities center at this time.
